Healesville Sewage Treatment Plant upgrade

Information about our planned upgrade

We're upgrading our Healesville Sewage Treatment Plant to provide essential services for years to come.

We're planning to increase the amount of sewage the plant can treat and upgrade treatment equipment. This will protect the environment and waterways from sewage spills, and we can continue to meet environmental regulations.

About the plant

The plant has treated sewage in Argoon Road since 1987 and can treat around 1.4 million litres a day.

We service thousands of homes and businesses in Healesville as well as homes, wineries and industry in the surrounding Yarra Valley area.

About the upgrade

The upgraded treatment plant will be able to treat 2.5 million litres of sewage a day.

The bigger plant will be able to manage heavy rain and floodwater better. We'll also upgrade the equipment and treatment processes. This will ensure the treatment plant continues to meet stringent environmental regulations and maintains and protects healthy waterways.

The upgraded plant will have more capacity to support the needs of homes and businesses in Healesville and surrounding areas into the future.

Timing of works

We are in the early stages of designing and planning the upgrade and anticipate starting construction in the next few years.

What's involved

The upgrade involves constructing new infrastructure and equipment to manage and treat sewage including storage tanks, pumps and pipework, as well as new buildings.

Have your say

Now is the time for you to have your say about the proposed upgrade and anything you think we should be aware of as we progress the project.
